Teaching Truth

Whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things.

Philippians 4:8

Establish a Christ-Centered Legacy

"The cultures of our world follow every new trendy idea, each generation captured by empty philosophies overturned by the next: vanity of vanities! But Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. If we would know unchangeable truth, cherish lasting beauty, and recognize proper goodness, we must know their source: the God of creation and redemption who has spoken to us through his Son, Jesus."

- Justin Estrada, Pastor of Redeemer Presbyterian Church and Chaplain of Redeemer Classical Christian School

Our Role in This Community is More Important Now Than Ever

Educational institutions are in turmoil. Issues of race, gender, and civic literacy are tearing schools apart. In many places, education has been turned into a journey of self-discovery or, at best, preparation for the job market. We can do more than just avoid these challenges—we must prepare students to think and act virtuously in a broken world.

Properly educating our sons and daughters is of the utmost urgency. Education is critical to the formation of the human person, body, and soul and is essential to know and pursue what is good, true, and beautiful. This idea is central to the long-established classical method, and why Redeemer Classical Christian School is such a vital asset to our community.

Instead of an increasingly typical self-focused education, Redeemer teaches students to look beyond themselves and teaches them to emulate what is good. Our staff and faculty instill in our students the desire to pursue truth, beauty, and goodness in their studies and in their lives.

TRUTH - We must speak the truth to students and teach them to reject what is false to ensure we live in a society with a strong sense of objective truth.

BEAUTY – We teach students to appreciate and create what’s beautiful by reflecting God’s character and the beauty of His creation.

GOODNESS – We teach students that there is a real difference between good and evil and help them discern what is good from what is evil as an essential part of their education, thus, preparing them to be a virtuous citizen.

The Need

On our beautiful campus in Kingsville, Redeemer is doing something very important that is found in few other educational settings in our community. Our dedicated and caring teachers use the traditional methods of classical education and a curriculum based on sources like the Bible, Augustine, and Aquinas to enable students to know, glorify, and enjoy God as well as prepare them to contribute to our civil society.

The school and its parent ministry, Redeemer Presbyterian Church, have thrived in our present facilities for more than 25 years, but we are now ready to make improvements to strengthen and enhance our programs.

Current facilities

Concept rendering of future phases

Redeemer has so much to offer our community and we do not want our ability to serve the next generation limited by our facilities.

- Our enrollment is limited by how many students we can teach in our present facilities as well as by the number of extracurricular activities we can support.
- Our access to our rented gymnasium space is becoming more and more limited as we compete with other users for the facility. We need greater access and flexibility to host our sporting events, concerts, open houses, and other community activities.
- Our chapel facility supports only a small number of students at one time, limiting our ability to worship, celebrate religious services, and grow as a believing community.
- With no dedicated cafeteria, we must currently either improvise or rent space to serve lunch.

More space creates a host of new ministries and opportunities for our ever-growing community.

The Opportunity

Our plan addresses our urgent needs and prepares the school to grow at a time when its mission is more vital than ever. The partnership between Redeemer Presbyterian Church and Redeemer Classical Christian School ensures the school remains grounded in the truths of God’s Word and supports the growth and vitality of the church.

Why Now?

- The school has a strong academic track record with a 100% college acceptance rate and hundreds of graduates to date.
- The church has a growing membership and plays a key role in sponsoring the school.
- Both institutions are on sound financial footing with no outstanding debt.
- The campus is an amazingly beautiful location with sweeping views of the Beachmont hills and surrounding Baltimore County, providing an ideal location for religious ministry and education.
- The easy-to-reach location makes the campus accessible to families from Baltimore City, Baltimore County, and Harford County.
- Our quarter century of successful operations, magnificent setting, existing facilities, and growing enrollment indicate that we are ready for expansion. The potential is here, and the creation of new facilities is the next step to enhancing our ability to engage God’s world.

Approved Master Plan

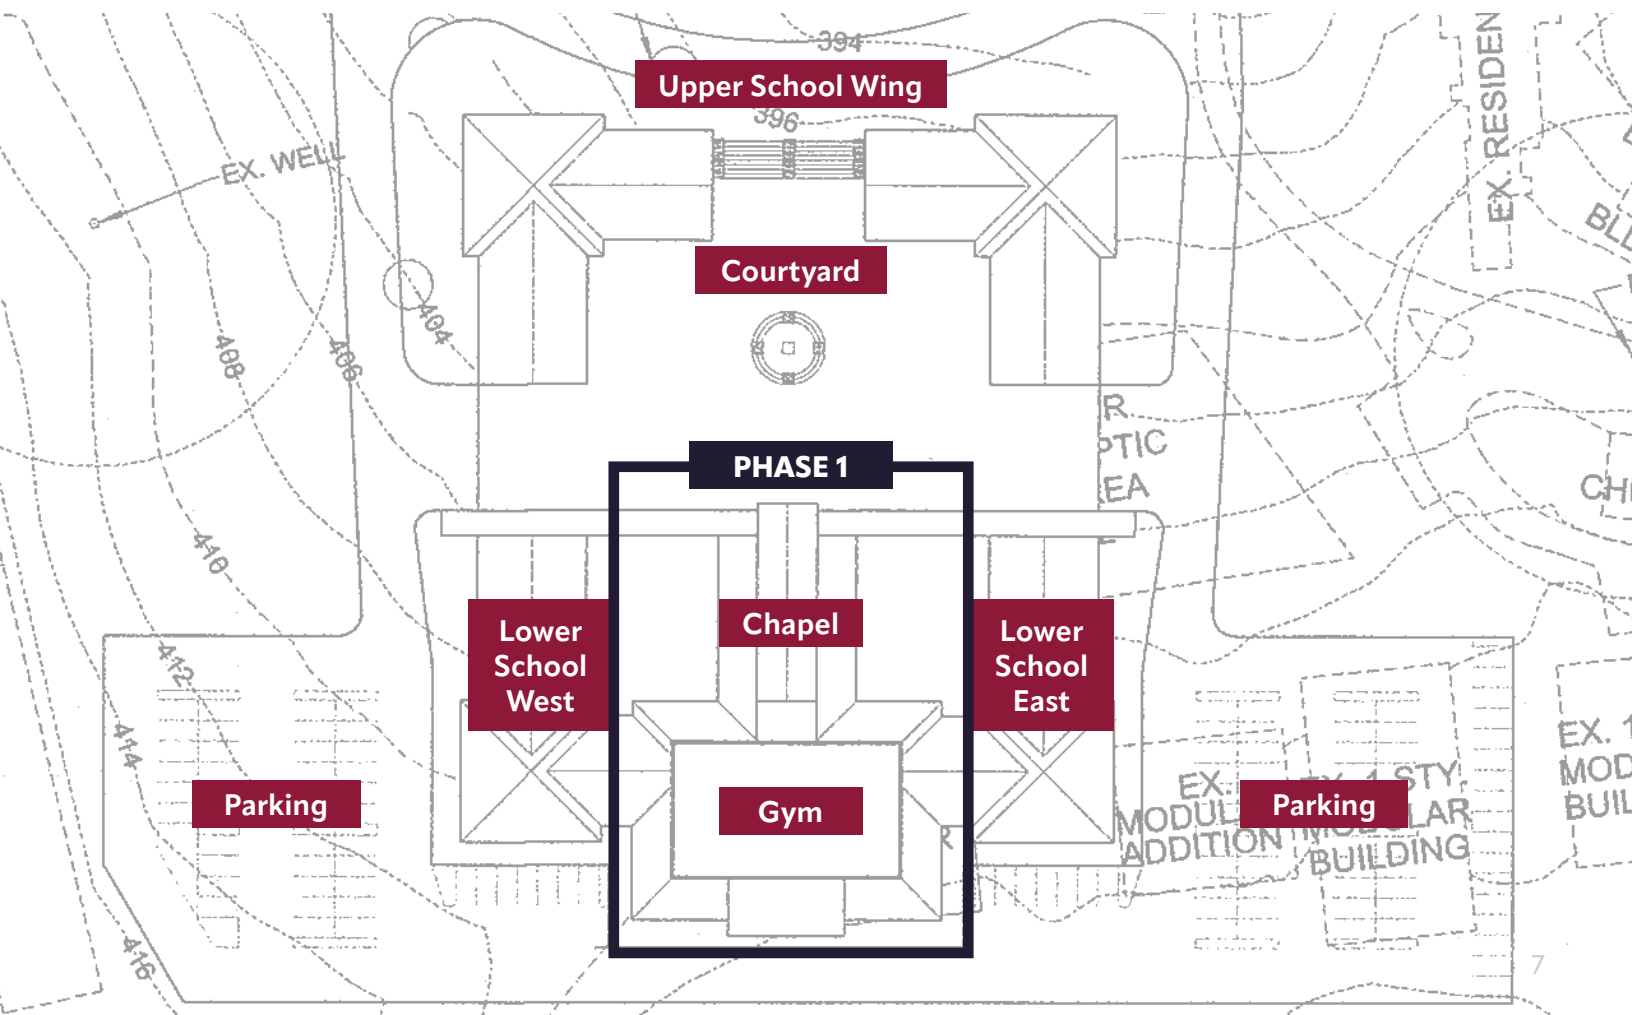

Redeemer Presbyterian Church and Redeemer Classical Christian School have approved a master plan to develop portions of the 35-acre campus near the Baltimore/Harford County Line. This completed facility will provide critical space for learning, worship services, athletics, and community outreach.

Phase One of construction will include worship space for church and school, a gymnasium for athletics and theater productions, and new kindergarten and PreK classrooms. Subsequent, phased construction will add classrooms for 1st through 12th grades.

NEW CHAPEL - Seating for 150+ people to host chapels and church services for Redeemer Presbyterian Church's ministry to the school and community.

NEW GYM - 6,000+ square foot gym to host athletic events and practices, school assemblies, community special events and fellowship activities, drama rehearsals, and more.

NEW CLASSROOMS - Pre-K and kindergarten classroom space and supporting facilities to allow the school to expand its offering for families with young children as well as support youth ministry for the church.

Eternal Impact

Redeemer Classical School's partnership with Redeemer Church offers the following spiritual benefits and care:

- Ministering to the community for over thirty years
- Steeped in the Word of God and the Reformed tradition
- A Member of the Presbyterian Church in America
- Founder of Redeemer Classical Christian School in 1996, offering continuous support, care, and spiritual oversight

"We owe the next generation an education that will prepare them to live well in the world, not simply survive. They will be here after we are gone, and we want to leave them with something meaningful."

- Glenn Fisher, Head of School

The Goal

To enhance the ability of the Redeemer Classical Christian School and the Redeemer Presbyterian Church to fulfill their missions, our community has initiated the Teaching Truth Campaign to plan for and create new and expanded facilities on our shared campus.

Goal:

Raise an estimated minimum of $3M by the end of 2023 and complete our first construction phase as early as late 2024.

Our master plan includes the following in Phase One:

- A full-sized high school gymnasium with seating and accommodations for multi-purpose use
- A chapel accommodating 150+ people
- Preschool and kindergarten classrooms to double our capacity to enroll new students

Giving Opportunities:

Every donation has the potential to make a huge impact on this project. We are a relatively small school, and our goal is to raise the entire cost to build each phase of the program without incurring debt to maintain our financial stability and ensure we can continue to offer an affordable opportunity to our families.

Redeemer Church and School need your prayers and the giving of concerned citizens and community members to be successful in this project. We welcome gifts and pledges in any amount. We welcome stock gifts, appreciated securities, and planned estate giving. Giving over time is an option for those who may be able to support our development program through to its completion.

As of February 2022, we have raised $1M+ towards our Phase One goal of $3M, and we need your help to raise the remaining funds. If you are willing and able to join this effort, please contact Glenn Fisher (Head of School) at glennfisher@rccs.org to discuss how you can support this important mission.
